Sing the melodic shape (moving melody, such as up and down, down and up) of familiar songs. Create their own songs or improvise a song around one they know Development Matters 2023 - Play instruments with increasing control to express their feelings and ideas.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Sing a range of well-known nursery rhymes and songs; ● Remember and sing entire songs. Sing the pitch of a tone sung by another person ('pitch match'). ● When teaching songs to children be aware of your own pitch (high/low). Children's voices are higher than adult voices. ● When supporting children to develop their singing voice use a limited pitch range. For example, 'Rain rain' uses a smaller pitch (high/low) range than many traditional nursery rhymes. ● Children's singing voices and their ability to control them is developing. ● Encourage them to use their 'singing' voice: when asked to sing loudly, children often shout. ● Try using one-syllable sounds such as 'ba'. Clap or tap to the pulse of songs or music and encourage children to do this. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Offer children a wide range of different instruments, from a range of cultures. This might also include electronic keyboards and musical apps on tablets. ● Listen carefully to their music making and value it. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Play instruments with increasing control to express their feelings and ideas. ● Perform songs, rhymes, poems and stories with others, and – when appropriate – try to move in time with music. ● Encourage children to experiment with different ways of playing instruments. ● Create their own songs or improvise a song around one they know. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● record children's pieces, play the pieces back to the children and include them in your repertoire of music played in the setting. ● Sing the melodic shape (moving melody, such as up and down, down and up) of familiar songs.
